Parking in Carlton

Can I park an RV, boat trailer, or any other vehicle on a neighborhood street?

Parking in the right of way can frustrate neighbors who can not see easily to back out of their driveway or are concerned about the road being partially blocked. We recommend first talking to your neighbor as they may be unaware that their vehicle is causing a problem and are more than happy to move it.

Carlton Municipal Code 10.04.130 and 10.04.175 states that no motor vehicle, trailer, or any other thing cannot be parked for more than 72 hours to ensure clear view of streets, alleys, sidewalks and curbs.

Conserving Water in Your Garden and Landscaping

Reprinted with permission from the League of Oregon Cities

Over the last year, thanks to a combination of lockdown due to COVID-19, teleworking and the arrival of nicer weather, there has been a large uptick in home gardening. Since spring is officially here and Oregon is finally starting to see nicer weather, the Oregon Water Resources Department (OWRD) wanted to remind everyone of some tips to conserve water in your garden, lawn and landscaping.

- Plant native plants that are perennials and drought tolerant and consider xeriscaping to help reduce fire risk to your home.
- Install drip irrigation instead of watering with a garden hose or a sprinkler system. Not only does it prevent disease in your plants by minimizing water contact with leaves and stems, but it saves water because there is less evaporation as the water is distributed.
- Harvest rainwater by collecting it off an impervious surface like your roof into rain barrels for watering your garden and landscaping.
- Add mulch to landscaping to prevent moisture from evaporating especially during dry spells.
- Water your garden and lawn early in the morning or late at night to reduce evaporation.
- Recycle household water. For example, that cold water that runs out when waiting for the water to heat up can be captured and used to water container plants.
- Move your mower blade up one notch and allow your grass to grow a little higher than you normally would. Longer blades of grass lead to less water wasted through evaporation.
- Plant your garden in small blocks instead of long rows for easier watering and greater efficiency.
- If you're resurfacing your patio or driveway, consider using permeable building materials such as paver blocks, and pervious concrete. This allows infiltration of stormwater runoff and can filter out pollutants that contribute to water pollution.
- Add compost to your garden soil to help retain water (thereby reducing watering needs) and bonus—it helps improve drainage in clay soils.
- Be sure to check your garden hose for leaks and replace washers on a regular basis to prevent leaks before they can happen.

This is of particular importance if you store your garden hose outside during the winter.

- When planting your garden, be sure to group plants by water needs. This will make watering far more efficient.
- Install a water timer—look for one with a soil moisture sensor that detects how wet the soil is and prevents overwatering.
- Reuse greywater (water from showers, washing machines, etc.) for watering landscape plants. Household soaps and detergents are harmless to plants (be sure NOT to use water containing bleach or disinfectants).
- Reuse your cooking water—if you steam or boil vegetables, pasta, etc. save the water! It is full of nutrients and makes for great fertilizer for your plants (be sure to let it cool overnight first).
- If you have a fish tank, don't throw that water out when you clean the tank and change out the water. It's full of "old" nitrogen and phosphorous which are great for plants.
- Resist the urge to wash down driveways, walkways and patios. Instead get some exercise by sweeping them off.
- Replace grass around tree trunks. The grass growing under a tree is competing with the tree for nutrients and water. Instead, replace the grass around trees with mulch, wood chips, or gravel.
- Trim your trees on a regular basis, especially the unnecessary lower branches—not only does this create a more structurally appealing tree by lifting the eye up to the canopy but with fewer branches and leaves there is less moisture loss (this is also great for fruit trees as it makes for a better harvest).

Public Works

Thank you, Public Works, for cleaning up the shelters and keeping the parks beautiful.

Our parks are getting a large amount of usage with the great weather. Thank you for helping keep them clean and litter free!

Thank you for keeping our parks enjoyable for everyone by keeping in mind:

- Parks are open dawn to dusk.
- Minimize litter in the park. Pack it in, Pack it out.
- Leave no trace of pet waste. Use the garbage cans and pet waste stations, and
- Pet parents, please use a leash or other means to keep your 4-legged friends under control and from interfering with another person's (or canine's) enjoyment of the park.

Water/Sewer

- Transmission line work is scheduled to begin June 14
