Endangered Runaway Found Safe

On July 20, 2021, at about 1:10 p.m., the Carlton Police Department received a report of a 14-year-old female that had runaway from a residence within the city limits of Carlton. The teenager had left the residence with no shoes on and had made previous comments that enhanced the concern for the overall safety of the child.

The Carlton Police department immediately searched the area while city hall staff assisted by providing information to the community and local businesses via city public notification systems so they could aid in keeping an eye out for teenager. There were several community members that voluntarily searched throughout the city in an effort to expedite the overall effort of finding her.

After approximately 3 hours of searching, a watchful resident in the area of the 13000 block of Rowland Rd. (about 3 miles from the teenager's residence) observed a female individual walking on their driveway which seemed concerning and subsequently notified police. The description matched that of the endangered runaway and therefore Carlton Officers responded to the location and verified that it was in fact the endangered runaway.

The teenager who appeared to be in good condition was treated by paramedics and subsequently transported to a nearby hospital per the request of her parents.

The Carlton Police Department and the City of Carlton would like to extend a very appreciative thank you for all the citizens that helped by searching the city and keeping a watchful eye out for the endangered teenager.
