The Carlton Code Corner

The City of Carlton has a set of ordinances that apply to our animal friends: pets and livestock.

- Animals are not to be allowed “at large”. An animal at large means the animal or fowl is off the premises of the owner or caregiver and not under their immediate control
- Animals and fowl may not roam freely on streets or other public ways of the city nor be an injury or annoyance to others
- Owners and caregivers are not to allow animals to make excessive noise
- An operator of a vehicle must stop and aid an animal if struck, if the animal is killed you must attempt to determine the owner and inform them of the occurrence
- Citizens may not discharge any projectiles at nongame birds to injure or kill
- It is unlawful to overwork, deprive of sustenance or beat any animal

The codes in their entirety can be accessed on the City’s website at https://library.municode.com/or/carlton/codes/code_of_ordinances.
