PGE Crews are working in the area!

The City of Carlton is working with PGE to increase the City's resiliency during storms and other events to keep the power on. PGE is working in the area to prune trees, clear branches, and vegetation and along the power line right-of-way.

There are a few homeowners that may receive letters about the options for trees under powerlines. If you receive a letter it contains contact information, should you have any questions.

Updates from ODOT

OR 47 Routine Maintenance Work

Last week our maintenance crew patched a section of OR 47 from approximately Grant Street to Wilson Street. The pavement along this section of road was rough, with cracking and some potholes. We patched the wheel tracks in this area to help prevent the road from getting worse over the fall and winter when it starts raining.

When it rains, the cracks and potholes fill with water. This deteriorates the pavement faster, causing more cracks and potholes.

During the winter months, it is very difficult to get the patching materials to stay in the potholes longer than a few days, creating an ongoing problem.

By patching this section during the warm summer months, the patching material is more likely to stay. This reduces the potential for an ongoing pothole problem, providing a smoother rider for travelers.

We'll be back in the next two to three weeks to patch a section of Yamhill Street.

OR 47 Realignment in Carlton Project

Heads up – you may see a few of our staff in town September 6 and September 27. We're meeting with a few property owners in the project area to talk about their access to the highway. If you see us in town, feel free to say hello and if you have questions we'd be happy to answer them!

Questions? Contact Paul Welch at 503-302-8926 or visit the project webpage for more information.

SEPTEMBER IS NATIONAL RECOVERY MONTH

If you suspect you or some one you know has a problem with Drugs or Alcohol the first step to to talk with them about it.

Use the following tips to help

- Be calm and wait to talk to them or someone when both are calm and in a stress free environment
- Be positive and use positive statements when talking to someone
- Emphasize the benefits to quitting or using less
- Remind them that they are not alone and that there are lots of people that also struggle with the same issues
- Give specific reasons why you have concerns
- Offer to help in any way you can
- Be supportive and offer to make a call to help them as well as go with them as support

BE SOMEONE TO TALK TO

RADIO COMMUNICATION

Things to Remember:

- "Hey You its Me"
- Be an active listener
 - Pay attention to what is being said by others as it can affect you and keep your situational awareness up.
- Think about what you are going to say before you speak
- Use plain CLEAR English
- Be brief
- Press and hold the PTT button for a second or 2 before you speak.
- Give clear and concise directions. This ties back into think about what you are going to say before you say it.

Lastly Remember that what you say on the radio is heard by everyone and is recorded.
